

Love your library? Be a friend!

We support Vancouver Community Library through volunteer activities that include:

- Selling used books to raise money to fund library programs and activities
- Building a strong and active membership
- Providing financial resources for activities, services, and materials that can't be funded through library budgets
- Providing support for the library's community activities
- Managing and staffing the Booknook store in the library's atrium
- Advocating for our library throughout our communities to bring greater awareness and understanding of its vital role
